I. Based upon the group's presentation, what is the take home message of the paper?

II. Please evaluate the scientific soundness of the group's presentation:
• How well did the group present the introduction and background?

• How well were each of the figures presented? If the presentation of a particular figure/figures stands out, please comment.

• How well did the group present the paper's conclusions?

• How well did the group present their sense of the future directions and overall importance of the work?

III. Please comment on the overall presentation focusing on the following:
• Organization of the presentation

• Clarity of the presentation

• Division of labor

IV. Please make additional comments on the back.